treat gallery new york is excited to announce our participation in two upcoming art fairs: satellite art show in New York City and PULSE Art Fair in Miami Beach during Art Basel week. The #1 goal of treat gallery is to help others, and our exhibitions raise funds for charities and nonprofit organizations. The full installation will premiere at satellite art show on October 3rd, 2019. Featured artists include Niv Rozenberg, Bree Lamb, Dru Hetrick, Molly Goldfarb, Penny Taylor, E. Brady Robinson and Bubblegum & Whiskey. A full list of exhibitors is available on our website.

The content of these images was entirely open; applicants were only given two parameters: work had to be predominantly one color, and a square. 1/3 of sales during satellite art show in New York City will benefit the New York division of the Human Rights Campaign, and 1/3 of sales during PULSE Art Fair will benefit the onePULSE Foundation, a not-for-profit established to honor and preserve the legacy of the 49 killed and all those affected by the June 12, 2016 Pulse nightclub tragedy.

ABOUT | Human Rights Campaign

Through research, educational efforts and outreach, HRC encourages lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer Americans to live their lives openly and seeks to change the hearts and minds of Americans to the side of equality.

ABOUT | onePULSE Foundation

onePULSE Foundation is the official 501(c)(3) nonprofit incorporated to manage the design and construction of the permanent national memorial and museum dedicated to the PULSE tragedy. The National Pulse Memorial & Museum will honor the 49 people who were killed there and support families, survivors, and first responders left to pick up the pieces.

onePULSE's mission is to create and support a memorial that opens hearts, a museum that opens minds, educational programs that open eyes and legacy scholarships that open doors. Its vision is to establish a sanctuary of healing and a beacon of hope by memorializing the lives taken, the lives saved and all the lives affected by the Pulse nightclub tragedy of June 12, 2016 – ensuring Pulse's legacy of love lives on forever. ABOUT | treat gallery treat gallery launched in 2016. We're an online gallery aiming to help emerging artists, businesses and individuals that could use a treat. We offer scholarships, affordable exhibition opportunities and have 2-3 pop-up exhibitions a year. With every pop-up show, we donate 25%-100% of proceeds to a various cause or non-profit. treat yourself, treat others.
